

Where are FREE Resources for Teaching the RF Skills?

Go to the MLC online training site at <https://literacymn.crhoosts.cloud/> and if needed, create a new account (user name and password)

- ✓ Under Trainings for Educators, locate Teaching CCRS Reading Foundational Skills 1-4 (one of many FREE online courses!)
- ✓ Simply browse the course OR earn 3-6 CEUs by completing all or some units, activities, and a final assignment
- ✓ Review reading research findings from a variety of adult literacy reports published between 2000-2013
- ✓ Print and use informal tests, four lesson plans, related instructional tools, and lists of activities for improving RF 1-3 or beginning alphabetic skills
- ✓ Print and use informal test materials, a lesson plan, and emergent or grade-leveled text for improving RF 4 or fluency skills
- ✓ Review inspiring case studies from Minnesota ABE/ESL reading teachers about their beginning alphabetic and/or fluency instruction

Go to the ATLAS online Reading library at <https://atlasabe.org/resources/reading/> (a login is not required)

- ✓ Click on Reading Components in the right-hand menu
- ✓ Click on Alphabetics to find research articles and mostly FREE, printable resources (Beginning Alphabetic Tests and Tools, Teaching Analogy Phonics, Intermediate Word Study, Making Sense of Decoding and Spelling) for explicit instruction of letter-sound-syllable-suffix-prefix-root patterns
- ✓ Click on Fluency to find research articles and mostly FREE website sources of high-interest, grade-leveled articles and passages for guided and repeated oral readings

Go to the MN ABE You Tube channel at <http://tinyurl.com/mnabepd>

- ✓ Click on Playlists to find the created group ESL for Adult Learners
- ✓ View a collection of videos demonstrating multisensory alphabetic instruction with non-native English speakers
- ✓ Or...access these same videos (perhaps more easily) from English Code Crackers at <http://www.englishcodecrackers.com/code-crackers.html> (look for Adult ESL Classroom Videos)

Go to the MN ABE You Tube channel at <http://tinyurl.com/mnabepd>

- ✓ Click on Playlists to find the created group EBRI: Evidence-Based Reading Instruction
- ✓ View a collection of videos demonstrating echo, repeated, and collaborative oral readings
